

Relationships and Transference from a Radix Somatic Perspective

February 2023, Friday 24 – Sunday 26

Time

9:00 am–5:00 pm
each day

Location

Adelaide

Venue

Sophia Centre
225 Cross Road
Cumberland Park
SA 5041

This three day intensive workshop will blend experiential and didactic learning.

The Module will focus on Relationships and Transference from a body centred perspective, mainly Radix. Participants will explore their habitual and momentary energetic and psychological relationship patterns and how these are impacted by the patterns of others—intimate partners, siblings, colleagues, clients and other social systems. The focus will be on the capacity for merging and differentiating, our character structures, what we invite energetically and non verbally as opposed to what we intend to invite. Each evening there will be some readings and there will be a project to complete during the workshop. This workshop is the eighth in a series of training modules.

About Radix

Radix Somatic Psychotherapy is a wholistic and comprehensive approach.

Differing from other psychotherapies that are somatically informed, Radix Psychotherapy has the body at its central focus and understands the psychological constitution of the person from the somatic. This process work, with the emphasis on somatically unfolding rather than applying a method approach, supports the healing and expression of the client within the therapeutic relationship.

Radix has its history in the work of Psychiatrist Dr Wilhelm Reich who developed body based psychotherapy back in the early 1900's foreshadowing a contemporary understanding of the centrality of limbic and autonomic regulatory processes in affective and mental life (Sletvoid 2014). Radix has grown and developed out of this work over the last 50 years, providing a subtle, highly attuned and comprehensive process oriented work.

Training workshops are offered by the faculty of The Radix Institute in the USA and Europe, and The Radix Training Centre in Australia.
